THE Theatrical Trust has discovered, despite asseverations to the contrary, that the "one-night stand" Manager can detect the difference between silk and burlap .-The Open Door, Chicago.

How true. Let us have fewer shows and better shows the coming season, and let the so-called "repertoire," all-week barnstormers move on to other fields where the hayseed is indigenous to rural whiskers and where any old show is considered the best because of their infrequency. And a show without music is like an egg without salt, as it were. We want a rollicking, harmonious orchestra to enliven the entre acts. A good show and good music is good enough for Maysville, but none too good.

COX IN THE RACE

All Signs Point to His Nomination For Governor in 1911

A Frankfort dispatch to The Courier-Journa

"In the opinion of the wise ones in Frankfort and those who, from long observation of or actual participation in politics, know pretty well in what shape things are moving. Lieutenant Governor William H. Cox of Maysville will be the Republican nominee for Governor two years hence.

"The recent visit of the Lieutenant Governor to Frankfort seemed, for some reason, to solidify the sentiment that it had all been cut and dried and Governor Cox would lead his ticket.

"This does not mean that Governor Cox has had a walkover or that there were several men who pulled the strings. It means simply that Governor Cox, by his wisdom and fairness and ability, which were demonstrated each time that he acted as Governor, has become so popular with the people that he cannot be beaten. The party leaders in Kentucky concede now that Governor Cox will be the nominee, and it would not be surprising to see his name the only one presented to the convention which makes the nomination."

SPRINGDALE.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Emmons visited relatives at Rectorville Saturday and Sunday and attended the Convention at Olivet.

Miss Leona Ryan, who has been ill at the home of her uncle, Mr. Rice Riggen, since March, was taken to Wilson Hospital Monday for surgical treatment.

Mr. Bernard Martin and sister, Miss Hattie, of Foxport, came down Sunday and accompanied Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Martin to the Sunday-school Convention at Rectorville.

The Sunday-school Convention at Olivet Sun day p. m. was largely attended, and was full of interest. Much good is hoped to be accomplished by these assemblies. The old Board of Officers was unanimously re-elected. President Thomas Dixon tried to resign, but his popularity was too great. The same can be said of the splendid Secretary, Mr. R. L. Cooper.

The Creamery business in Mason county is a comparatively new industry. Whether it is to be a profitable one or not is yet to be determined. The farmers in this end of the county are optimistic regarding Crescent Creamery at Rectorville. Situated as it is, near a natural "Silver Fountain," amid beautiful fields of bluegrass, the report for June certainly supports this optimism, the amount of milk contributed being 94,790 pounds, producing 4,700 pounds of butter. The butter produced at this Creamery is already famous for its exquisite flavor, and the demand for it for exceeds the supply. There is a view abroad in the land that Creameries are not a success and that the establishment of each is with a view of "graft."

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Central Presbyterian Church will serve icecream on the lawn of Mr. Charles Dobyns Tuesday evening. Price 15 cents.
